

The Fairfax-Loudoun Music Fellowship met on Wednesday, November 8, 2017, at Music and Arts in Sterling. Members present included Lydia Kriso, Sandy Baker, Sharon Reck, Karen Pino, Connie Olivera, Melinda McCullah, Kay Willett, Rachel Harmatuk, Jan Bode, Gretel Von Pischke, Olga Boeva, Shohreh Ghajar, Elza Ritter, and Libby McConnell.

Sharon Reck opened the meeting at 10:00 a.m. Libby McConnell read the October minutes, which were approved with one correction.

Sandy Baker reported that there is $19,894.67 in the checking account. Income included member dues, Reston Community Center recital fees, Lansdowne recital fees, and Ensemble Festival registrations. A PayPal statement is available. Expenses included Reston Community Center rental, a down payment to Ensemble Festival conductor Jeffrey Dokken, and ASTA dues, through which insurance for the harpsichord is purchased.

Sandy Baker has the harpsichord. The Korg electronic tuner is missing.

Amy Work sent a report that thirteen teachers have signed up for the Lansdowne recitals and 181 students have registered. There will not be a raffle this year. Steve Cunningham will tune the piano.

Sandy and Sharon met with Jeffrey Dokken to discuss all the aspects of the Ensemble Festival. Jennene Estes is working to write parts for strings and saxophone.

Sharon Reck thanked Music and Arts for the use of their space and the refreshments.

The next meeting will be the Holiday Coffee at Karen and Mark Pino's home. It will be at 10:30. Members are invited to bring goodies and music to share.

The meeting adjourned at 10:15 a.m., to be followed by a program by Frank Conlon entitled, "Bringing the Printed Page to Musical, Poetic, and Artistic Light."

Respectfully submitted,

Libby McConnell
